TPUSA Insider Admits Charlie Kirk Was Killed By ‘Traitors In His Inner Circle’

By Jonas E. Alexis, Senior Editor - October 23, 2025

Baxter Dmitry

A gag order on three thousand people. Evidence locked away. Every trace of that day erased. The witnesses are terrified to speak — except one. And today… he’s done being silent.

A TPUSA insider — a donor who knew Charlie Kirk personally — is stepping forward. He’s violating the gag order because he says the cover-up isn’t just criminal… it’s historic. He calls it the biggest inside job since 9/11 — and he’s ready to name names.

According to him, the rot started from within. Traitors inside Charlie’s own circle — people he trusted — conspired to end his life. And the reason why… is more terrifying than anyone imagined.

Stay with us. Because once you hear what he has to say… you’ll understand why they are disappearing people to keep this story buried.

In an unprecedented move, 4th District Court Judge Tony Graf placed gag orders on more than three thousand people connected to the assassination.

That includes every staff member at TPUSA, faculty and students from Utah Valley University, and even bystanders who were present that day.

Let that sink in—three thousand gag orders.

Covering up a false flag on this scale doesn’t just take coordination… it takes control. Control over people. Control over evidence. Control over the narrative.

But here’s the problem for those pulling the strings: the truth always leaks.

And this week, it did—big time.

New, previously unseen footage from the Charlie Kirk assassination has surfaced. In it, an urgent voice cuts through the chaos—just seconds before the fatal shot—clearly commanding: "Stay down."

Who was that voice talking to? A member of the security detail? A spotter relaying orders? Or something darker—a handler directing the hit squad?

This isn't background noise. This is deliberate. It's coordinated. And it's damning. We now have faces in frame. The next step is to put names to them.

So the question becomes: what are they so desperate to hide?

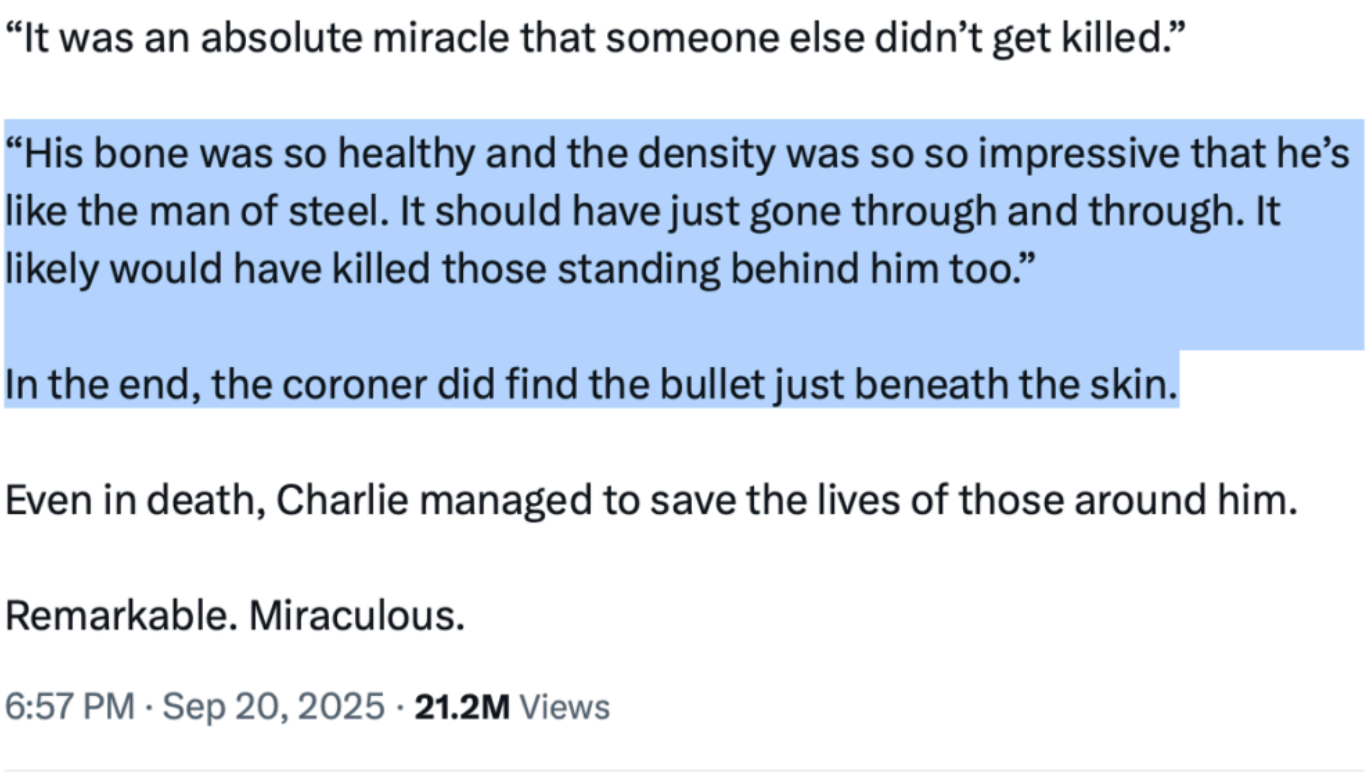
Why did they rush in and rip off his lapel mic before he even hit the floor? Why did they seize the memory cards from every camera in sight—scrubbing the evidence before a single frame could surface?

From the very start, the official story didn't add up. They said it was a 30 odd six rifle. When that was called out as impossible, they said Charlie was literally superhuman, with a jawbone so strong it literally stopped a bullet in its tracks.



But when you look closely—really look—the so-called entrance wound looks a lot more like an exit wound.

Why did the judge place three thousand people under a gag order?

And here's something most people don't know—Judge Tony Graf wasn't even supposed to be on this case. He's a replacement. The original judge was quietly reassigned after weeks of being tracked and monitored by Israeli operatives in the months leading up to the assassination.

Just another coincidence?

Something is very, very wrong here.

Something's rotten in the state of Utah. In the Tyler Robinson trial, a pattern's emerging — and it stinks of a cover-up.

We told you last week that key players in the Charlie Kirk false flag, including emergency surgeons, Josh Hammer, and Tyler Robinson, were hit with Google searches from Israel months before the shooting.

Now we can prove that both Judge Tony Graf, now on the case, and his predecessor Robert Lunnen, were also hit with Google searches from Israeli IPs months before the shooting.

Lunnen on May 15… and Graf on July 26.

For context, there wasn't a single Utah-based search on either—until after Kirk's death.

Coincidence? Or foreign intel scouting the bench?

The "coincidences" don't end there.

Lunnen suddenly "retired" on August 1. Graf stepped in August 4—the same day the Salt Lake FBI chief Mehtab Syed gets pulled. That's not random. That's choreography.

And here's the real kicker—Judge Graf issued a massive gag order—his own motion, no push from prosecution or defense. It silences everyone: witnesses, lawyers, clerks, even unrelated attorneys in their firms.

No precedent. No paper trail. Just silence.

According to a TPUSA donor who knew Charlie personally, he's decided to violate the gag order—because, in his words, "there's too much at stake to stay silent."

Charlie Kirk was silenced. Now the system is trying to silence everyone connected to him.

But truth doesn't vanish just because they outlaw it. And as this whistleblower told us… if their violence terrorizes us into silence and compliance, they win.

Jonas E. Alexis, Senior Editor

Jonas E. Alexis has degrees in mathematics and philosophy. He studied education at the graduate level. His main interests include U.S. foreign policy, the history of the Israel/Palestine conflict, and the history of ideas. He is the author of the book, Kevin MacDonald's Metaphysical Failure: A Philosophical, Historical, and Moral Critique of Evolutionary Psychology, Sociobiology, and Identity Politics. He teaches mathematics in South Korea.

Latest Posts >>>
Jonas' Archives (2016-2022) >>>
Jonas' Archives (2004-2015) >>>